

Sea Baum snuggled a poodle named Ferguson.

Some four-legged friends recently helped Black Hawk College students take a relaxing break from studying.

Therapy dogs from the QC Canine Assistance Network visited the Quad-Cities Campus Library, letting stressed students pet, cuddle and adore them.

Samantha Sprinkle (left) and Theresa Granato (right) enjoyed meeting Simon Says, an English lab.

Their visit was sponsored by the Counseling Department.

Share this:

- Click to share on Twitter \(Opens in new window\)
- Click to share on Facebook \(Opens in new window\)
- Click to email a link to a friend \(Opens in new window\)
- Click to print \(Opens in new window\)
- More