

River Valley Cooperative recently awarded nine $500 scholarships to students planning to attend a two-year college. Five of the recipients are incoming Black Hawk College East Campus students.

The BHC scholarship recipients are:

- Amanda Carlson, Aledo
- Dylan Decker, Atkinson
- Adam Dynes, Annawan
- Matthew Lloyd, Aledo
- Brayden Newman, Lynn Center

Applicants were eligible to apply by choosing a career path in an ag-related field, their academic achievements, community and school-related activities, understanding of the cooperative system within a community, and their commitment to teaching others about agriculture.

Students who continue to meet the requirements are eligible to renew the scholarship each semester for a maximum of $2,000.

River Valley Cooperative is a member-owned cooperative based in Davenport, Iowa, that serves eastern Iowa and western Illinois.

Last updated 4/4/2017

Share this:

- Click to share on Twitter \(Opens in new window\)
- Click to share on Facebook \(Opens in new window\)

- Click to email this to a friend \(Opens in new window\)
- Click to print \(Opens in new window\)
- More