General Education Core Competency in Mathematics, Communications, and English have been renamed Foundational Studies in Quantitative Literacy, Oral Communication, and Rhetoric & Composition. The four Distributive Studies areas; Humanities & the Arts, Science and Mathematics, Social Sciences, and Interdisciplinary Studies have been renamed and redistributed into three Knowledge Domains; Creativity & Critical Analysis, Nature & Technology, and Society & Culture.

Transfer courses with IAI codes will be placed in the Foundational Studies and Knowledge Domain areas as listed on the Plus General Education and IAI Placement chart whether a direct NIU equivalent or not. Transfer courses that do not have IAI codes but that have previously been determined to qualify for a general education area at NIU will be placed in a Knowledge Domain according to these rules:

All courses with a Science/Math designation will be placed in Nature & Technology.

All courses with a Humanities/Fine Arts designation in Music, Art, and Theatre will be placed in Creativity & Critical Analysis.

All courses with a Humanities/Fine Arts designation in English, Literature, Philosophy and Classical Mythology will be placed in Creativity & Critical Analysis. Courses in other departments will be placed initially in Creativity & Critical Analysis with the option of being used in Society & Culture if needed, unless the title specifically includes "Society" or "Culture" then it will be placed in Society & Culture initially with option to use in Creativity & Critical Analysis if needed.

All courses with a Social Sciences, or Interdisciplinary Studies designation will be placed in Society & Culture.
