

Trivia Rules:

- No yelling out answers, right or wrong. It disrupts the game and can bother other players.
- Find the smartest friends you have, or hire someone to help you. It doesn't matter who they are, if you call them you're team, we won't judge you. You're more than welcome to play by yourself, just be sure your table has no more than 8 people.
- There is a 10 point penalty for a team of 9, and a 15 point penalty for a team of 10. Groups of 10+ MUST split up to play. The penalty will be assessed before the final questions.
- No cell phones, blackberries or any type of outside sources are allowed. Teams that are reported using any outside devices will be disqualified and become ineligible for any prizes. Remember, it is very very LAME to cheat at trivia. 😊 BRAIN POWER ONLY!
- When we ask a question, we've researched it. The answer we have is the correct answer. Don't think so? The decision of the judges will be final and will not be subject to change.
- Replacement of a team member is not allowed after registration.
- Have fun!

Format:

Each team will choose a team name.

Each team receives a sheet for your answers at the beginning of each game. The sheet outlines the game and is just used to follow along and keep track of the categories.

There will be 8 rounds with 2 bonus rounds if a tie occurs.

Each round will have 10 questions from various categories.

The winner will be the team at the end of the 8 rounds with the most points.

Each question will be worth 1 point; you must get the full answer for it to be considered correct.

There will be approximately 1 minute per question.

There will be a 10 minute break after round 4.

At the end of each round a blue balloon will be placed on the team which is in the lead and a black balloon will be placed on the team that has the lowest score.

Up to 10 Mulligans can be purchased for a dollar a piece to be used each round if unsure of one answer.

1 double round sticker can be purchased for 5 dollars which is placed on the top of score sheet in which you will double your points for that round.
